

Off We Go For A Haircut Off We Go Seriesu S Edition

An “original and haunting” novel about two wars and two generations of men (Minneapolis Star Tribune). Pensive in the wake of 9/11, a young man launches a mission to reunite his beloved grandfather, an American bombardier, with Luddie, the woman who saved him during WWII. Armed only with the address on the back of an old photograph and his grandfather’s memories, the young man begins writing letters to Luddie. Undaunted by her lack of response, the narrator travels to Poland with his girlfriend and grandfather. As they come closer to finding the site where the bombardier was shot down, the letters to Luddie become more personal—and the saga of a family with a long and storied history emerges. Beautifully orchestrated and eloquently original, this is a tale of soldiers and saviors, of burning and bombing, of fathers and sons and brothers and lovers—and of what we find when we dare to revisit the past. “A rewarding experience.” —Chicago Sun-Times “Nichols handles beautifully the hidden meanings in old family tales heard a hundred times . . . The novel often reads like a piece of music that is wonderfully original.” —Publishers Weekly “A dramatically off-kilter debut novel about wars and the men who fight them . . . We see the Bombardier, an elderly Rotarian and former mayor of a small Midwestern town, rediscovering his youthful memories. His grandson’s bewilderment over what to do about the 9/11 attacks highlights the differences between then and now. There’s a lot of meaty material here.” —Kirkus Reviews It's time to get moving with Mayday and her friends! Toddlers will love the colorful pops and fun rhymes in these lovely books for little hands!

All of these activity books teach basic educational material in the context of a Christian environment. Perforated pages make reproducing activity sheets easy and painless. Through this book, children look at and dream about careers they may follow when they grow up. Twelve are explored in depth. The introduction explains that even the special people in the Bible had jobs - whether tentmaker, carpenter, or fisherman. A wonderful way for children to learn that faith blends with all aspects of their lives.

One by one, baby woodland creatures leave home and sing their way to visit grandma.

Dr. Seuss’s wonderfully wise Oh, the Places You’ll Go! is the perfect gift to celebrate all of our special milestones—from graduations to birthdays and beyond! From soaring to high heights and seeing great sights to being left in a Lurch on a prickly perch, Dr. Seuss addresses life’s ups and downs with his trademark humorous verse and whimsical illustrations. The inspiring and timeless message encourages readers to find the success that lies within, no matter what challenges they face. A perennial favorite and a perfect gift for anyone starting a new phase in their life!

Marvin is a calm and mindful gorilla living peacefully in the city, enjoying every minute of his day, unlike his sassy, curt, irreverent former Empire State-climbing Grandpa.

From the tip of the Top End to way out west, Australia is packed with magical things to see and do. So off we go! Sailing and surfing, caving and kayaking, camping under big skies and exploring underground... Join us for all the madness and mayhem of our fabulous family holidays. Includes four much-loved travel books in one: At the Beach, To the Top End, All the Way to W.A. and In the Bush. Praise for the series: 'Roland Harvey is the master of detail - his wonderfully chaotic books always surprise.' The Sunday Age 'This fun way for kids to learn more about Australia is sure to inspire a thirst for travel and the highly detailed pages will withstand many readings.' Sun Herald 'At times Harvey seems to distil the essence of the Australian bush. Here is a treasure of unfailing pleasure.' Magpies

Part of a series of books which help prepare children for a particular event. Each book explains what comes next on an outing, and therefore helps children to get through the task or situation more easily, and ultimately reduce stress for themselves and those around them.

Guido, a young rat, loves giving tourists rides in his small gondola in Venice, Italy, until he is persuaded to add a motor, then buy a large boat, then an even larger one, until he realizes he misses the small things in life.

Mole's determination to ride without training wheels vanishes when he wobbles and crashes— but Bear's support convinces him to try again. A charming story about confidence and perseverance, starring Will Hillenbrand's beloved Bear and Mole. At first, Mole can't wait to get the training wheels off his bike, but riding is harder than he expects. "I quit!" he sobs, after his first attempt goes awry. But his dear friend Bear encourages him to get up and try again. It's a bumpy ride—but Mole makes it, all by himself. Will Hillenbrand's Bear and Mole series is the perfect choice for storytime sharing or reading aloud. Strong verbs, repetitive phrases, and fun-to-read sounds keep young listeners and readers engaged with the story, while the gentle illustrations add detail and quiet humor. Kids will delight in poring over these books again and again. Don't miss the other Bear and Mole titles, including All For a Dime, Spring is Here, and First Star!

Give preschool and kindergarten grads the gift of inspiration with this perfect graduation day gift: a book full of positive messages paired with adorable, colorful illustrations that promises to uplift and encourage children on their big day. The perfect gift for the littlest graduates of preschool or kindergarten as they accomplish their first experiences with school and pave the way to a lifetime of learning, this book is a great way to celebrate the special child in your life. With charming illustrations and text to uplift and motivate, And Off You Go to Change the World is a wonderful read for parents and children alike. Congrats, grads!

Presents the steps to visiting the dentist, from arriving at the dentist's office to sitting in the dental chair and getting an oral exam.

We swim in turquoise water and build castles on the beach. We climb up rocks or watch from docks, To see the gray whales breach.

Description Join Viji as she gets to know her city better, before all her cousins come to Chennai for her aunt's wedding. Go along as she visits her favourite Marina Beach, the Guindy National Park and the Madras Crocodile Bank Trust, enjoying her Appa's yummy dosais and sambar along the way! From Mylapore to Adyar, Dakshina Chitra to Cholamandal Artists' Village, get to know the cultural highlights of this city, while Viji gets thrilled by an unexpected spotting of her favourite movie star. Chennai comes alive in this book, with Viji as your resident guide!

All aboard the bus, off we go! Get ready for a big day out: see the dinosaurs at the museum, play in the park, and eat your favourite foods. With cut-outs so you can peek through to the next page, and fun flaps to discover lots of things along the way! Follow this family on a brilliant day out, with bright and cheerful illustrations.

And Off We Go is a collection of stories lending wings to our curiosity and taking us through space and time! The first one introduces us to the Vikings, who taught their children how to coexist with the frozen seas and respect the animals. In the second tale we visit the African Bushmen and get to know their very special way of learning how to hunt. The third one takes place in Japan and describes how a samurai preserves the honour of a persecuted princess, while in the fourth we learn about understanding dreams with the Navajo, a native American tribe. The stars in the fifth story bring together two girls – a Masai and an Australian – marked by fate in the same manner. Through these tales we learn how to listen to the wind and how to understand people different from ourselves. The goal of these stories is for the readers to become fascinated by fantasy journeys. The young readers will take their own knowledge of the world and their family with them on these journeys, and learn about different ways of life full of similar mutual relations and identical fears and joys. They will learn that many different peoples or groups of people live or have lived in the world, that every group has certain peculiarities we can look up to and make use of living in the today's world, or simply discover what people can find their own little shares of happiness in. However, the most important message is the realisation that we are all very much alike despite all the differences. We love our nearest and dearest, we laugh at a funny story, and we are upset by injustice, regardless of when, where in the world, and what family we were born into. The collection of stories And Off We Go will help you discover at least some of your secret wishes and chase away prejudice and fears. These five stories will change your outlook at the world. For the better.

Off We Go to Mexico! An Adventure in the Sun Barefoot Books

"Donovan wrote in his green notebook shortly after takeoff: 27 Nov 2001: We just left Gander, Newfoundland about 30 minutes ago ... I've got Brick House coming loud and clear over the airline headset. I'm eating a nice hot chicken entree. I've got the whole row of seats to myself, my closest neighbors are two recently emptied mini-bottles of Scotch, and I've got my weapon at my feet. I'm accompanied by about 100 other desert-clad troops. 3rd Army, Airborne and engineers. How can you beat a military that deploys like that? A couple of hops from home, and into the war zone. Everyone is anxious to get in it." --Back cover.

It's no surprise that camping is one of the most popular recreational activities in the world, especially in North America. It's an opportunity for many to get out and enjoy nature and experience wildlife up close. Some may consider camping to be almost too popular based on the increasing difficulty in booking spots on campsites, especially in the summer as sites tend to become even more crowded. But camping has also become a major family pastime and, as some would say, is a really good and considerably cheaper alternative to booking a holiday. A few miles out into the natural wilderness void of cars and buildings can mean a whole different part of the world altogether! There are a variety of activities which campers can enjoy including fishing, swimming, hiking, hunting and even taking videos or photos of wildlife. But every camping trip has one purpose which is enjoyment. Regardless of the season or whether it's an individual expedition or a fun family outing, safety naturally is the most important thing prior to stepping out into the wilderness. It is crucial to not only be well-organized but also well-prepared before travelling outdoors. Being prepared makes all the difference between an enjoyable campout and a world of disarray and misery. The following tips will certainly help you be prepared, be responsible and most importantly...be safe.

"A 22-volume, highly illustrated, A-Z general encyclopedia for all ages, featuring sections on how to use World Book, other research aids, pronunciation key, a student guide to better writing, speaking, and research skills, and comprehensive index"--

Presents the stages of going to get a haircut, from arriving at the hair salon to having hair washed, dried, cut, and styled. Simple rhyming phrases, including "touch the ground, twirl around" and "hop and skip, take a trip," introduce pictures of children playing. On board pages.

This is a picture story book which helps prepare a child for the first experience of going on a plane. The book is aimed at children with special needs/autism and pre-school children.

Self-Care for Kids A kid-friendly introduction to self-soothing and mindfulness with adorable animal friends. A child's "very first step" into mindfulness where the story's short rhymes can be used as soothing mantras, paired with delightful illustrations of baby animals working through anxious situations. This book does double duty as a self-help story providing great comfort beyond the pages.

A heartbreaking and powerful story about a black boy killed by a police officer, drawing connections through history, from award-winning author Jewell Parker Rhodes. An instant New York Times bestsellerAn instant IndieBound bestsellerThe #1 Kids' Indie Next PickA Walter Award winner Only the living can make the world better. Live and make it better. Twelve-year-old Jerome is shot by a police officer who mistakes his toy gun for a real threat. As a ghost, he observes the devastation that's been unleashed on his family and community in the wake of what they see as an unjust and brutal killing. Soon Jerome meets another ghost: Emmett Till, a boy from a very different time but similar circumstances. Emmett helps Jerome process what has happened, on a journey towards recognizing how historical racism may have led to the events that ended his life. Jerome also meets Sarah, the daughter of the police officer, who grapples with her father's actions. Once again Jewell Parker Rhodes deftly weaves historical and socio-political layers into a gripping and poignant story about how children and families face the complexities of today's world, and how one boy grows to understand American blackness in the aftermath of his own death.

Bear helps his friend learn to ride a bike without training wheels. A companion to Spring Is Here and Kite Day.

Charlie Wheelan and his family do what others dream of: They take a year off to travel the world. This is their story. What would happen if you quit your life for a year? In a pre-COVID-19 world, the Wheelan family decided to find out; leaving behind work, school, and even the family dogs to travel the world on a modest budget. Equal parts "how-to" and "how-not-to"—and with an eye toward a world emerging from a pandemic—We Came, We Saw, We Left is the insightful and often hilarious account of one family's gap-year experiment. Wheelan paints a picture of adventure and connectivity, juggling themes of local politics, global economics, and family dynamics while exploring answers to questions like: How do you sneak out of a Peruvian town that has been barricaded by the local army? And where can you get treatment for a flesh-eating bacteria your daughter picked up two continents ago? From Colombia to Cambodia, We Came, We Saw, We Left chronicles nine months across six continents with three teenagers. What could go wrong?

Description The maharaja's golden brooch is missing, right from the City Palace itself! Who could have stolen it? And how? Come on—there is no time to waste! Kavya and Pia need your help to solve the mystery of the maharaja's missing brooch. Is it hidden in the Jantar Mantar? Or is it in Hawa Mahal or Amer Fort? Could it still be in the City Palace itself, hidden from sight? Race along with the super sibling detective team as they piece together this mystery and take you through the streets of the historic Pink City of Jaipur.

Most mommies are girls. Most daddies are boys. But lots of parents are like my Maddy. My Maddy has hazel eyes which are not brown or green. And my Maddy likes sporks because they are not quite a spoon or a fork. The best things in the world are not one thing or the other. They are something in between and entirely their own.

"Self-help books for kids and the adults in their lives"--Back cover.

A charming collection of historic rhymes and nursery songs for children of all ages.

Beatrice is so well-known for never making a mistake that she is greeted each morning by fans and reporters, but a near-error on the day of the school talent show could change everything.

This booklet provides exercise leaders and teachers with a range of information which should help them plan individual lessons for children. It offers ideas on movement, plans for setting up apparatus, and more, with patterns you can copy, ideas for making things, and children's songs set to music. The various pedagogical aspects of working with children are also addressed, along with how children's gymnastic groups can be organized and methods for encouraging children to move about.

Offered a summer trip to Europe to study history's most famous artists, seventeen-year-old Nora is required to create a unique painting at each stop, but clashes with her mom who fears her daughter's optimism may prompt an insecure future.

Sing, Spell, Read & Write uses carefully sequenced, systematic, explicit phonics instruction to build fluent independent readers. It is effective because it engages students in playing games; singing songs; and look, listen, point, sing-along, and echo routines that stimulate the senses and appeal to all learning styles. Its approach requires total participation on the part of the learner and is strongly supported by current research on brain function, language acquisition, and reading.

Presents the steps to shopping at the grocery store, from making a shopping list beforehand to picking out a cart and paying at the register.

A story about connecting with nature through the concept of Forest Bathing.

Copyright: b08fc0f12a8179801db198ec41c9ea02